

Professionalism urged for Chamber

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce President Clark Stuparyk urged members of that group's committees to "get their priorities straight" and to spend more time in both long and short term planning of Chamber projects.

Stuparyk also asked that Chamber members exhibit an "appearance of professionalism" and publicly back decisions made in Chamber meetings, regardless of their personal feelings. He said that too many decisions are being talked of in a disparaging manner after receiving approval in votes at meetings.

The President also suggested that clubs and organizations in Elk Point be charged for membership in the Chamber. He felt that along with increasing involvement of these groups in the Chamber, this would be a valuable source of membership revenue. Some other towns are now going this route, Stuparyk added.

In business arising from the minutes of the previous meeting, an invitation from the Elk Point 4-H Beef Club to host a pancake breakfast at their 20th Anniversary Reunion was scrapped, due to lack of interest.

The Cheque Guard plan proposed earlier was revised, as it was feared that a breakdown in the phoning system might occur if some businesses were not interested in the project. Those interested in joining the hotline to prevent petty theft and NSF cheques are asked to contact Clark Stuparyk or Wayne Smith by April 12.

Al Mitchell reported on the commemorative ride by the Winnipeg Light Infantry. He has been in contact with those in charge and has found it would be possible for a group to visit Elk Point. However, the visit would be made by vehicle, not horseback, and would involve only a short stop in Elk Point. It was decided not to pursue this idea further.

Pat Vincent reported that the Town is about to start sweeping streets on an 8 hour per day basis. With the library scheduled for completion around May 1, plans for renovating the Town Office will be made in the near future. A date for the General Municipal Plan Review is to be set at the April 9 Council meeting.

Vincent also noted that the Town has applied for 24 positions on various summer employment programs, and that plans for July 1 are already underway. He also said the Town will look into the reported problem with wind blown construction garbage.

Evelyn Kowtun reported that Elk Point and Lindbergh had been mentioned in the Alberta's Throne Speech for the first time ever, and commented on the recognition the area is gaining through its oil development.

Ron Barwick reported that Jean Slywka had given permission to hang the Chamber's plaques in the Empress Banquet Room.

John Williams informed the Chamber that the Elk Point Lions Club in undertaking Child Identification Programs in the two Elk Point schools, Heinsburg schools and with the preschoolers. Further information will be forthcoming.

Two representatives of LW Radio were on hand to suggest a co-operative approach to news gathering in the Elk Point area, and will bring a written proposal to the next meeting. Information from Chamber meetings could be traded for advertising of Chamber events, said Dennis Depatie, and news related by local businesspersons could result in reduced advertising rates for them.

Dome outlines development plans

Dome Petroleum Limited hosted well over a hundred and twenty-five residents of the Elk Point area at a very informative Open House last Tuesday at the Elks Hall.

Aerial photographs of the area where the proposed new development will take place, and closer-up photographs of each section of land involved gave a very clear indication of just what the project includes.

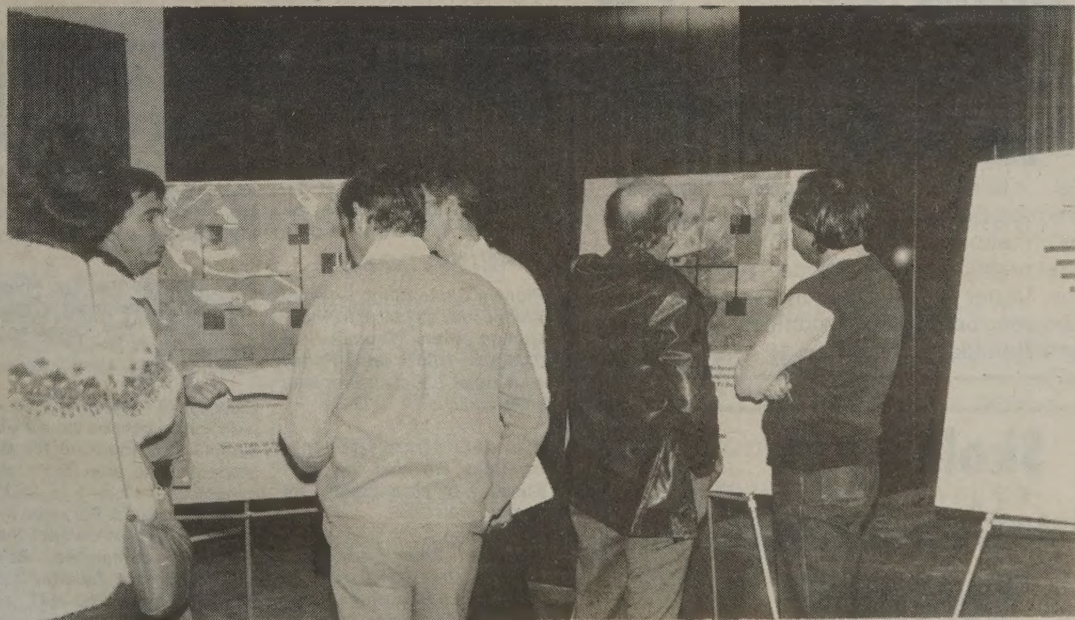

The photo of the larger area showed the existing wells on Sections 18-55-5-W4M and 24-55-6-W4M, the existing battery on Section 18, and the location of the battery to be built on Section 24 later this year. Dome currently has approval for enhanced oil recovery on these sites, plus a similar development, using slant-drilled wells, on the north-west quarter of Sec. 10-56-6-W4M.

The large photo also showed the sites of three additional batteries, and oil drilling activity on sections 12 and 14-55-6, Section 30-55-5 and Section 11 and the rest of Section 10-56-6, for which application is being made. Drilling on these sections would be in the form of 16 directional wells drilled from a single pad in the middle of each quarter section.

Dome expects to develop one section per year, beginning with Section 10, with the entire development complete in five years.

The close up photos of the single sections show the wells now in existence on the property, with see-through overlays denoting the location of the proposed development. Some existing access road leases would be returned to the landowner, and restored for agricultural use.

A chart showing the project schedule for each section, including drilling and construction, steaming and production, and additional recovery methods proved interesting to open house visitors, as did the diagram showing the layout of the pads and the central battery facilities.

Environmental concerns were well addressed by the displays, which included diagrams and photos of the emission control devices employed at wellsites, batteries and treating plants, and photos of the various air monitoring equipment used to determine the existence and concentration of hydrogen sulphide, sulphur dioxide and carbon dioxide.

Other displays dealt with disposal of waste water, garbage and oily sand, land use and soil conservation.

A most interesting display showed a ground level meter which is used in measuring noise pollution, which registers every sound over fifty decibels. Accompanying handout sheets showed the decibel level of common sources of sound, ranging from a whisper at 5 feet (30 DB) to amplified rock music (110 DB) and an air-raid siren (130 DB). Sound levels in the oilfield will be graphed before and after construction of the facilities.

Doug Callbeck, Dome Field Superintendent, based in the Lloydminster office and Community Relations expert Mary Troke of the Calgary office were joined by a number of other Dome personnel in interpreting the photographs and

Library furnishing fund growing

At the last library board meeting, Frank Mayner on behalf of the T-D Bank, presented a substantial cheque to Darlene Sereda, Chairperson, and Lena Stepa, Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star, presented a cheque to Doreen Mayner, librarian, both towards the furniture and equipment in the new Elk Point Public Library.

When the new library is ready, later in the spring, we hope that there will be enough money in the fund to have the necessary furniture in the building.

All donations are gratefully accepted at the present library, and we will issue a receipt for a charitable donation for income tax purposes.

Please help in this worthy community project.

diagrams and explaining the equipment.

Ms. Troke explained that Dome has already met with the owners of the land where drilling and development is planned, to explain the implications of the project. She said that the open house was planned to give residents of the area as a whole an opportunity to ask questions about the project and better understand Dome's activities.

The Open House, which was a larger scale version of the public information meetings held in Elk Point in 1981, 1982 and 1983, continues Dome's commitment to have ongoing discussions with local residents as well as to introduce the commercial heavy oil project.

report from parliament hill

by DON MAZANKOWSKI

Our national holiday comes but once a year. It is a time to celebrate our nation and our achievements, both individually and together as Canadians.

A new Canada Day tradition is evolving in our country. That tradition is to celebrate our national holiday through special community events. These events are as wide-ranging and varied as the kinds of groups which sponsor them. What is important is that these celebrations commemorate the spirit of our nation, its people and their accomplishments.

This year, in honour of International Youth Year, Canada Day celebrations will focus on a "Salute to Canadian Youth", celebrating the achievements and potential of young Canadians.

What is your community doing to celebrate July 1st? If you would like to organize a community event, "seed money" grants are available from the Canada Day program sponsored by the Department of Secretary of State.

These funds are not for 100% funding of your event, and you will have to show widespread community support for your projects from other sources such as local businesses and local government.

The Canada Day program is also sponsoring a special Canada Day Youth Award for community ceremonies honouring young Canadians. This award is available to community groups who would like to honour a youth in their community at a Canada Day ceremony.

For more information on these programs, contact my Vegreville Constituency Office, 632-2855, the Lloydminster Office at 875-9595, or the Provincial/Territorial Canada Day Committee, through the Regional Secretary of State Office at Alberta Canada Day Committee Room 706, Harley Court (P.O. Box 109), 10045 - 111 St., Edmonton T5K 1K4; telephone 420-4584.

Fair — getting closer

by IRENE MAGNUSSON

It's hard, at this time of year, to be thinking 'flowers', but if we get out our seed catalogues or stop at the seed section in the grocery store, it doesn't take long to get our 'gardening fever' going. And what could be a better place to stop than in the flowers section?

There are 42 sections in the Flower Class listing in the Elk Point Fair Prize List booklet. Most are annual flowers. (Are gladiolus annuals? I'm not sure, I only know they grow from bulbs.) There is a long section for gladiolus. These may be large, medium or small, in many colors. The helpful hint in the book says it's useful to prop your beauties up with a wad of foil in the glass jar or bottle they may be exhibited in.

Where it specifies 'plain glass jar' present your entry in a plain glass jar. Fancy vases are not what they are judging in this class - only flowers.

For the next batch, only the flowers are in competition. Leaves may be removed. So you stick the stems of your asters, snapdragons, zinnias or sweetpeas through a piece of foil, which you have placed over your plain glass jar top (with a bit of water down below). Groups of blooms range from one alone to five of a kind, and a great show they make, don't they?

A bit further down the list we see the tin foil cake pan come into play. This is where you cover the pan with foil, punch holes and place the head of the flowers specified right on the foil. You can leave a bit of stem — and don't forget the water.

The short-stemmed petunia, pansy and marigold are suitable for this treatment. Next is the rose section, again — containers not judged. There's a place here for corsages, too — fresh or artificial flowers. (Now, that's something that can be made ahead.)

Now we come down to the group where containers WILL be considered. Dining room arrangements, special occasion, buffet or living room arrangements — lots of scope for the imaginative. Dried flowers, and you can incorporate silk flowers along with your dried grasses, leaves, etc.; this is another project you can have ready ahead of time.

Flower mats (flowers embedded in sand), and last but not least — baskets of roses — such is the variety in the flower class open to exhibitors at the Elk Point Ag. Society Fair.

Time to order your seeds, although many plants will come ready-sprouted from the many greenhouses. If you'd like any further information on the flower class, call Sharil Baumgardner, at 724-4117. She's in charge of this section and will be pleased to help you.

And don't forget to pick up your Fair prize list, at the Lakeland Printing Office, (across from the Post Office) in Elk Point. It's bulging with information and inspiration for Fair fans. May your garden burst with blooms.

THESE HANGING FUSHIAS — Are not for the flower Class (but don't they just turn you on?). The marigolds and petunias below them are the start of what you'll need for the 'mats'. (Triangle Greenhouse). — I. Magnusson

ERCB

Energy Resources
Conservation Board

Open Letter to the Residents of the Elk Point Area

When the ERCB panel returned from its recent public hearings in Elk Point, Chairman Gerry DeSorcy suggested the need for improved communication between area residents and the energy companies working there. While the Panel believed that everyone was trying to communicate, it seemed as though some of the very real concerns of rural and town residents were not being fully addressed. Indeed, the Panel felt so strongly about this that it took the unusual step of stating that need in its decision report.

Because there are a number of energy companies working in the area, and because there may be different opinions about the projects that they plan, the ERCB would like to help bring all of the parties together. In particular, we would like to find out whether or not some form of community advisory committee would be both workable and helpful.

One thing must be made very clear; while ERCB can help to get something like this started, we must remain neutral. We will be pleased to offer whatever help we can, but we cannot continue to play the lead role over the long term.

Here is what we are proposing. We have asked Natalia Krawetz and Felicity Edwards, who have experience with similar situations, to visit the Elk Point area over the next three to four weeks, to find out from you how communication might be improved. They will then state their findings in a report which will be made public, with copies going to all those who met with them, and to anyone else requesting a copy.

If you are interested in learning more about this activity, or in personally meeting with either Mrs. Krawetz or Miss Edwards, please call collect to Natalia Krawetz (Edmonton 453-5005), or alternatively to Ralph Evans (Calgary 297-8581).

Sincerely,

Do you know where your dog is?

Elk Point seems to have had a sudden explosion in the dog population, as formerly house-bound pooches greet the great outdoors with enthusiasm.

This is fine. All of us want to get outdoors after a long, boring winter, and our four-legged friends are no exception.

The problem comes when these animals stray far from home in their spring wanderings and become a nuisance, and sometimes a hazard, to others.

A dog, safe in its own yard, can have a tremendous amount of fun in the springtime, as it discovers last summers buried treasures in the garden, and attempts to catch low-flying birds. A dog who roams through other people's yards, digging in their gardens and scaring birds away from their feeders is a pest.

Dogs left free to follow children to school and neighbors to the downtown stores can become part of a dangerous situation. They can scare, knock down or even bite small children, or run out into traffic and cause an accident — often to the dog itself.

A dead dog in the middle of a street is not a pretty sight, and a veterinarian to treat an injured dog is 35 kilometers away.

If they do survive their trip up-town they risk the ire of the local bylaw officer, because no dog, tagged or not, is allowed to run free in town limits.

So please — keep them home — for everyone's sake, including the dog's.

V.B.

Water, water, everywhere

As winter melts into spring, and goes rushing through the culverts and ditches around town, we suddenly realize that all Town Council's discussions of drainage are not idle chit-chat.

The discussions of the Level One Report and the arguments over the need for curbs and gutters in new subdivisions means very little when you read them in the Council Notes column.

When you see the spring snow-melt coursing down the streets of the mobile home subdivision and forming a moat across 50th avenue, and see small rivers pouring through the fenceline of the undeveloped reaches at the Ference subdivision, the need for all this discussion becomes real.

The need for the improved drainage measures planned by the Town for future development, is clearly visible now, unless we all LIKE to wear rubber boots and drive mud-caked vehicles eight months a year. (The other four, we wear snowboots and fight snowdrifts.)

We are lucky to have a Town Council who realizes this need, and is not afraid to plan ahead to fulfill it.

meanwhile, back at the ranch

by VICKI BROOKER

Hello from Air Canada Flight 220, en route from Vancouver to Edmonton. We are on our way home from a most enjoyable long Easter weekend at the Coast.

After last Wednesday's Chamber of Commerce meeting, I hurried straight home, picked up my husband and our luggage, and we were on our way at last. We have been planning this vacation together for would you believe, twenty years? Although we have gone many other places together and I have been to Vancouver twice in the company of one of my sisters, this is, at last, the time we actually got there together.

It was snowing as we left Edmonton International, after a trip made somewhat longer by leaving the Edmonton map, along with my new raincoat, on a chair in our dining room. Thick clouds covered the earth all the way, although we were above them in bright sunshine for a time, and cloud and drizzle awaited us in Vancouver.

We were met at the airport by my No.1 sister, Aileen and brother-in-law Al Cleaver, who are, as a team, the most pampering hostess and tireless tour guide I've ever seen.

Both assured us that spring was late in coming to Vancouver this year, although to us, the trees bursting into bloom, daffodils bringing a ray of sunshine to a cloudy day, and the green, green grass looked far more springlike than the melting snow we had left behind.

Thursday was still cloudy, but we toured Stanley Park, and took a drive up the coast highway to see the place where last spring's floods had washed away several of the homes clinging to the mountainside, and a number of people died when a bridge washed out and they drove into a small, treacherous canyon.

Back at Horseshoe Bay, we lunched on Oyster burgers as we watched the ferries coming in and out of port, then later stopped at one of the large shopping malls in West Vancouver. We wound up the afternoon with a visit to the most amazing Granville Market, which is like an enormous farmer's market, situated on an island and housed in old warehouses.

After an excellent dinner of fresh caught salmon and fresh asparagus, we spent the evening viewing slides of the Cleavers' 1984 vacation cruise through the Panama Canal.

Friday brought sunny skies and an in-itation to brunch at the home of the Cleavers' son Michael and daughter-in-law Joanne. Later, we visited the Queen Elizabeth Gardens and the beauties of the Bloedel Conservatory which is built on that hilltop site. The gardens are semi-enclosed in a former rock quarry, and although they are only beginning their season of bloom, look very green and attractive to eyes more accustomed to snowdrifts.

A tour of the waterfront area, from the massive grain terminal elevators to the Expo '86 site, and a brief visit to Gastown, where old stores have been spruced up to make an attractive and popular shopping district, completed the afternoon.

We watched the sun drop slowly into the ocean, and the lights twinkle on all over the city from the vantage point of the revolving Harbour House Restaurant, high above the downtown area, as we enjoyed a fine meal.

Saturday, following a morning expedition to one of the shopping malls, where I visited the "Doggie Deli" shown on "W-5" a few weeks ago and bought some belated Easter treats for the four-legged friends, we spent the afternoon sailing. The Cleavers have a 27 foot yacht, and a brisk breeze whisked us out and about the harbor and over toward North Vancouver, and back along the coast of English Bay, where many folks could be seen enjoying a walk on the beach. The fresh ocean air gave us a fine appetite for a large meal of Vancouver's famed Chinese cuisine.

Sunday, we joined Al for a visit to the city's annual Easter Antique Car Parade, which featured over 100 vehicles, ranging in age from about 1910 until 1955, and drawing large crowds of spectators. Then it was time for a tour of the Expo '86 site, which includes a huge model of the finished layout of entertainment areas and exhibit pavilions which will greet next year's visitors to the city.

We wound up the day with a beautiful turkey dinner at the Cleaver home, for which Michael and Joanne arrived bearing beribboned Easter eggs filled with chocolates for their Mother and aunt.

This morning, we were up long before the sun, to arrive at the airport in time for our 8:00 a.m. flight home. The brown, waterlogged fields of Alberta are now below us, as our weekend comes to an end.

Home again, home again...

Who's responsible for providing health care? It is not just the health unit nurses on strike, seeking wage parity with the nurses in hospitals. The responsibility also rests with the government, to ensure that the health care portion of our tax dollar is spent appropriate-

75 years of Girl Guides in Canada

by KIM SMITH

Guiding started in 1907 in England and 1910 in Canada, and has slowly expanded to 8 million people and girls involved. Guiding started when Lord Baden-Powell called a rally at the Crystal Palace in London. Eleven thousand boys showed up but what really surprised him was that about eleven girls showed up also. He asked his sister, Lady Baden-Powell to take the girls and she gladly accepted. Guiding has started. Guides, Scouts have been around for 75 years! I would ask Lord and Lady Baden-Powell to take a bow but Lady Baden-Powell died in 1977 and Lord Baden-Powell in 1941. Here are some dates to remember over the years:

1907 — Scouting began in England.
1909 — Rally at Crystal Palace, London. Guides began.
1910 — Guides began in Canada.
1928 — The W.A.G.G.S (World Association of G. Scouts and G.G.) was established at the Pax Ting International Conference in Hungary.
1941 — Lord Baden-Powell died.
1957 — Baden-Powell Centenary.
1960 — Golden Jubilee of Guiding.
1962 — Guides catholiques du Canada was formed as part of G.G. of Canada.
1977 — Lady Baden-Powell died.
1979 — The age groups in our programs changed. Pathfinders was formed.

'WAY BACK WHEN — Guides of the early years enjoyed camping trips in much the same way we do today.

Apple heads

ELANA YAREMKEVICH

While interviewing Mrs. Sharon Kuhn who makes apple dolls for a hobby, I learned that she first got interested in these apple dolls by seeing them in stores and then by finding books on how to make them.

She has been making these dolls for three years, and I think she's a pro at it, but she says that there are things she hasn't perfected yet.

The dolls aren't too expensive to make because she uses Granny Smith apples that are only $1.00 each and bits and pieces of material. Not considering her work strenuous, she enjoys her hobby.

She prepares her apples by peeling them and carving a face and putting a wire through and letting them dry for six weeks. It takes a day for her to add on the clothing and trim.

To make these dolls, she uses household appliances, needlenose pliers and lots of patience. Sharon enjoys what she is doing and her work is beautiful!

End of winter

by KIMBERLY KUREK

Well it's the end of winter. The birds will be coming back and the hibernating animals will be coming out. The ground is getting bare and grass is showing.

Out goes the heavy clothes and in comes the light ones! No more skating, no more hockey, no more snowball fights, no more winter things.

But we have spring things to look forward to.

THE WAY WE WERE — Guides during the 1920's wore a much different uniform than we do sixty years later. However, these young ladies probably enjoyed the program as much as their 1985 counterparts.

Adventures at the Spring Park poker rally

by RHONDA PINDER

On Saturday, January 26th, 150 ski-doo's took part in the Spring Park ski-doo rally. I was a rider, I rode with my dad. We went with Cliff and Callie Baumgarden. There were 5 stops. At each stop you pick a card at the first stop Callie and I got the same card. The first stop wasn't at the hall. In between the first and second stop it started to snow but by the time we were at the second stop it stopped snowing and the sun was coming out. We stayed at the second stop a while and had some food and a pop.

After we started off again we came to a big hill but we made it. When we were going along Cliff's skidoo tipped and Callie fell off but she got back on and we started off again. Soon we came to the third stop and at the third stop the hamburger truck was there but we never bought anything. In between the third and fourth stop there was a lot of hills some were not so steep but still some were steep. Soon the fourth stop was up, and not long after that the fifth stop was up. At the fifth stop Dad's ski-doo wouldn't start so when we finally got it started we drove to Kevin's place and welded on a piece that was coming loose. Callie and I walked around then we left and it didn't take long to get to the hall because it was all clear country.

Nancy Heinemann retires from hospital staff

Nancy Heinemann, who has served the Elk Point Municipal Hospital's laundry and dietary departments with over fifteen years of faithful endeavors, was honored at a retirement party on Thursday afternoon, March 28.

Mrs. Heinemann was joined at the head table by husband Karl, son Lennie and daughter-in-law Bonnie, for a ringside view of the hilarious entertainment provided by Jeannette Frisby, Pauline Pankiw and Lucille Suvak, in a skit narrated by Diane Anderson and relating the adventures of the Heinemann's on a post-retirement visit to Hawaii.

Presentations were made to Mrs. Heinemann by Roy Bristow of the Hospital Board, Gwen Morris on behalf of the doctors, Jeannette Frisby for CUPE, and Pauline Pankiw for the hospital staff. Mistress of ceremonies Charlotte Engstrom read a touching poem on retirement, written by Lori Shmyr.

Len Heinemann presented his mother with a gift from the family, quipping "Mom hasn't been home yet" since her retirement.

In thanking those who put on the party and those who brought gifts, Mrs. Heinemann said that she still feels "Retirement is for the birds" and that she really would rather still be hard at work in the friendly atmosphere of the hospital.

GIFT FOR A GOOD FRIEND — Nancy Heinemann is presented with a gift on behalf of the medical staff at Elk Point Hospital, honoring her retirement.

Major improvements for Heinsburg area highway

EDMONTON — Alberta Transportation will call for tenders to carry out a major improvement project on Secondary Roads 646 and 893 in the Heinsburg area, Transportation Minister Marvin Moore and St. Paul MLA John Drobot announced recently.

This major improvement project involves base pavement construction on Secondary Road 646 from east of Lindbergh for 15 kilometres to the junction of Secondary Road 893 and on Secondary Road 893 from the junction of Secondary Road 640 for five kilometres to the junction of Secondary Road 646. In addition, base pavement construction is required on the Access Road from the junction of Secondary Road 893 for one kilometre to Heinsburg.

Base pavement construction is the first stage toward providing an ultimate paved surface, with final paving to follow in a future year's program.

Mr. Drobot remarked: "I am pleased to see this major improvement project, a high priority with the County of St. Paul, underway. The work on Secondary Road 646 will benefit the local, agricultural and energy-related traffic associated with the heavy oil development that is presently occurring in the Lindbergh area. As well, the construction of the access road to Heinsburg will make a noticeable difference for the traffic travelling to that centre."

Mr. Moore commented: "The base pavement construction on the Heinsburg Access Road is part of the department's ongoing program to provide communities with surfaced accesses from primary highways and secondary roads, while the work on Secondary Roads 646 and 893 is the first stage toward providing those routes with a paved surface. This major improvement project is scheduled for completion during the 1985 construction season."

From the Sergeant's desk

By SGT. JIM FELL

One of my primary concerns as a Peace Officer is the safety of our children as they make their way to and from school. I have talked about this in my article on several occasions but education does not seem to be the answer as was the case two weeks ago. I worked radar in the Playground area at the schools during the lunch break and after school and five people had to learn by experience. I had one reading on the radar of 54 km. per hour, the speed limit is 30 km. per hour and contrary to popular belief, only one out of the five was under eighteen years of age.

For those that are still not sure what the law is regarding Playground Zones, the speed is 30 km. per hour seven days a week between 8:30 a.m. and one hour after sunset. We will continue to monitor speeds in the Playground/School area and will continue to issue Violation Tickets.

Another area of concern is that of School Buses when they are loading and unloading students. The law stated that on any two way road outside a town, if the red flashing lights are activated, you shall not pass the bus. If you are approaching from the front, you are required to stop in your lane ahead of the bus. If you are approaching from the rear, you are required to stop in your lane behind the bus. You shall not proceed to pass the bus until the red flashing lights have been turned off. The only time this change is on a four lane divided highway. If you are approaching the bus from the rear and the red flashing lights are activated, you must stop and wait. If you are approaching from the front and across the median, you are not required to stop.

Most often when I have stopped people and issued them a ticket for one of the above violations, it has been explained to me that the violator forgot about the time of day or that they were in a hurry. This course is not acceptable especially when you consider the potential tragedy that could occur.

Dewberry and district news

by CLIFF
CUNNINGHAM

May Braithwaite is in the Vermilion Health Care Complex now. She came back from the Edmonton Hospital March 26th.

On March 29th a miscellaneous shower was held in the Dewberry Hall for Karen Craige. A large crowd turned out to wish her well on her wedding day. Karen and Dirk McNaughton are getting married April 13th in Lloydminster. Mrs. Teresa Craige is in the Royal Alex Hospital in Edmonton. We all wish you good luck, Teresa.

A fashion show and dinner was held by the Bible class at the Dewberry Hall on March 26th. The fashion show was from 1930 to 1985. It was well acted and some pretty costumes were displayed. A large crowd came to see the show. The dinner after the show was buffet style and very tasty.

Marge and I went up to the Vermilion nursing home and had a nice chat with Mrs. Effie Allen and Mrs. Florence Grant. Both of these ladies are from the Dewberry district, and are feeling good for their ages which are 94 and 95 years young.

The Dewberry Co-op store supper and meeting was held in the Dewberry Hall March 27th, with a fair crowd. Doreen Hicks won the door prize. The Dewberry C.W.L. catered to the supper.

Clandonald Fish and Game held their ice fish derby on March 31st at Laurier Lake with a fair crowd turning out. Men's Perch was won by Larry Yarmuch, 13½ oz.; Men's Northern Pike - Mike Nowasad, 5 lb. 4½ oz. Ladies Perch - Carolyn Poloway, 10½ oz. Ladies Northern Pike - Carolyn Poloway, 10½ oz. The Dewberry Ladies Birthday Party was at Eileen Frey's home on March 27th with six members attending. Bingo was played.

Bill Brock is home now from the hospital and feeling better. Sandy Ewen is home also from the hospital.

The Dewberry Mustangs hockey team held their windup party with a very nice supper and dance in the Hall on March 30th. Most points - Bruce Goldsmith. Most goals scored - Randy Huxley. Rookie of the year - Lyle Bates. Best Defenceman - Jim Brake. Most Gentlemanly - Bruce Etherington. Most Valuable player for the year - Dean McLean. Most Valuable in the playoffs - Brent Romanchuk. Good luck to all the players and everyone that came out and supported them at their hockey games.

The Explorers tea and bake sale and raffle was held in the United Church hall on April 4th with a large crowd turning out. The ladies of Dewberry and District put on a very nice lunch with the small girls serving and they made sure your cup of tea or coffee was filled up as soon as it was empty.

We called at the Vermilion Lodge last Monday for a visit with some of our old friends and had a game of pool. Wally Curtis said to tell all other Senior Citizens that the Senior Citizens in the Lodge can still play pool. He would like to take you on for a game to prove it.

Jim McDowall was taken to Edmonton on April 3rd by ambulance for more check-ups.

Mrs. Peter DeJong and Mrs. Edna Cook called in one day last week for a short visit. It was nice to see them and we would like to see more of our old neighbors and Clandonald friends call in for a chat and a cup of coffee.

Alma Rainey came home on April 3rd. She stayed with her sister in Camrose for a while after her operation. We all hope you are feeling better now Alma. Viola Haney is suffering with a broken hand. She slipped and fell on an ice patch. We all hope you are feeling better by now Viola.

Dewberry Minor Hockey had their wind-up supper on Tuesday, April 2, in the Dewberry Hall with a very large turn out.

Rev. Lamont said grace, then everyone enjoyed a pot luck supper. Following the supper each team was introduced with their coaches. Minor Hockey presented each player with a token to keep. It had the year, the team, child's name and number which will help them remember in years to come. Ken Lawrence from "Clandonald K.E.L. Service" presented each player with a puck "Esso Hockey Medals of Achievement" as well as the Esso medals for "Most Valuable Player", "Most Sportsmanlike Player", and "Most Improved Player". Each team presented their coaches with a plaque of appreciation.

Dewberry Minor Hockey would like to thank everyone who helped in any way at all to make the season a success.

Congratulations to Bill Osinchuk of Elk Point on your 90th Birthday party. All of you Dewberry and district people look in your attic, garage or tool shed, you might have something you don't need. The Dewberry Curling Club needs your support on April 18th in the Hall. Seen driving around Dewberry a news reporter driving a new red Chevette car. I hope all of you people had a nice Easter holiday over the weekend. The Cunningham's went to Spicers and all of their family were there having fun riding around on their new Honda four wheel trikes. Wendy and Brian each have one.

Elk Point historical society meets

by IRENE MAGNUSSON

At an evening meeting in the Holthe home in Elk Point the Elk Point Historical Society directors discussed new developments in the continuing saga of the Society's efforts to protect, publicize and promote the recognition of our Historic Sites, namely old Fort George and Buckingham House, down by the river.

In regular business, President Mary Bennet suggested a meeting on the new Grants schedules, called by Elk Point Recreation Director, Neal McMann, may be of interest to the Society, in particular regarding the culture aspect. A request from the Library Board for assistance in furnishing the new Library was read. A motion to make a donation of $200 was carried.

On the matter of the Historic Sites, Bennet has received a large bundle of written information pertaining to the explorations for the group's perusal. An offer from Les Hurt of help in the selecting of material and the compiling of a one-page brochure for distribution through the Tourist Booth was noted. A motion to accept this offer was carried.

A later motion to include, as the visual part of the "Point of Interest" sign to be erected along Highway #41 near the new bridge, a replica of the old map made by David Thompson, explorer, in 1885, of the area surrounding the two Forts, was carried.

The secretary was requested to ascertain the costs of printing a quantity of these brochures.

A letter from M.P., the Hon. Don Mazankowski, again offered all assistance possible, and included a suggestion that the group might obtain help from the Canada Employment Commission. This avenue will be explored.

Frank Maynard reported that the C. of C. has drafted a letter to Alberta Culture urging the importance of some form of restoration of the sites of the two Forts, as a tourist attraction.

Both Mayner and Sid Holthe gave further details of the proposed march in September by the Winnipeg 92nd Light Infantry contingent through the area south of Elk Point to commemorate the Centennial of the Riel rebellion. A canoe convoy down the N. Saskatchewan River, also in observance of this anniversary, is in the offing.

Bus Tours of some historically important sites are planned for the summer, commencing in Lloydminster, the group were told. These were discussed with a view to learn how to incorporate them to some benefit to the Elk Point area.

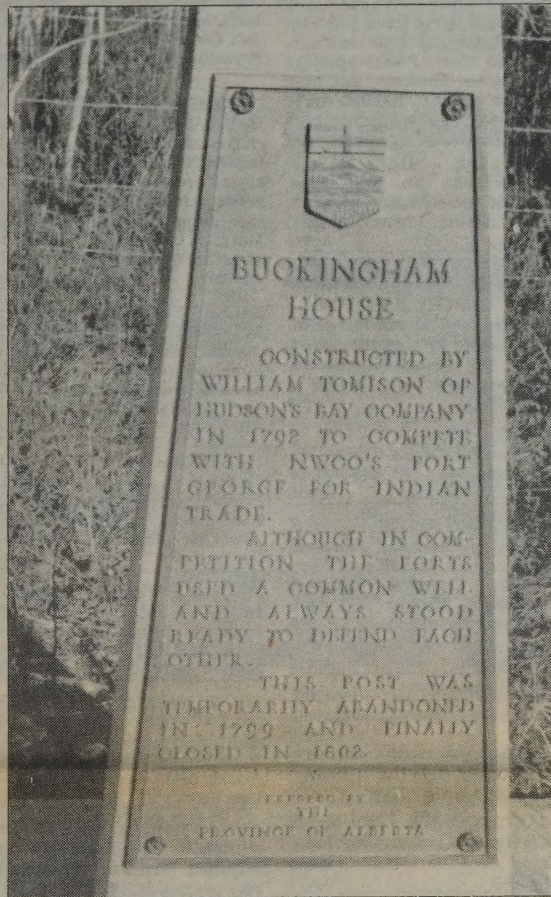

It was agreed that the Society must have access to the Forts area, in order to show visitors around, to repair roads, etc.

The members congratulated Mrs. Bennet on being selected to serve with the Northern Alberta Development Council.

Treasurer Modin was unable to attend, so no financial statement was available; however, little change would have occurred.

Meetings are called only as required, so no next-meeting date was set. Adjournment came at 9:50 p.m. followed by refreshments graciously served by Mrs. Holthe.

THIS PLAQUE IS, AT PRESENT — Practically all that is visible of the old Fort. The Historical Society — and a lot of others — would like to see a good deal more.

First rodeo in new arena

The annual Lakeland College Rodeo will be held April 13 and 14, and — for the first time — it takes place in the new riding arena at Vermilion Campus.

Nine other post-secondary institutions, from as far away as Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Saskatoon, will be competing. The rodeo is sanctioned by the Western Canadian Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

Action get underway at 7:00 p.m. Saturday and again on Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Admission for each performance is $5.00 for adults, $3.00 for students, and no charge for those under 12.

This year, at least two of Lakeland's rodeo club members have been stand-out performers within the Association. Brian Lindsay leads the circuit in calf roping, and Brigitte Croteau's barrel racing abilities earned her a spot in Edmonton's prestigious Super Rodeo held last month. The Rustlers Rodeo Club, with about 45 members, is one of the college's largest student organizations.

As a fundraising project for the college gymnasium expansion, Student Services staff will be operating the rodeo concession. The division will also host a pancake breakfast Friday morning in the cafeteria to kickoff the rodeo weekend.

Good news for farmers from the legislature

by JOHN DROBOT, M.L.A.

Alberta Agriculture Minister, Hon. Leroy Fjordbotten, announced an important new incentive to help Alberta crop producers ease input costs. Considering fertilizer represents 30% of cash input costs of crop production, this is an appropriate area in which we can help farmers reduce production costs.

Since fertilizer prices and types used vary considerably across the province, payments under the plan will be made directly to the farmers.

Payments will be based on $50/tonne of actual nitrogen and $25/tonne of actual phosphate used in fertilizer formulations purchased by the farmers.

In recent months we have announced several measures to help producers weather the current cost price squeeze. Alberta farmers purchase approximately $300 million worth of fertilizer annually, with natural gas being the major energy component. The payment to the farmer under this program will exceed the royalty received by the Province on natural gas used in fertilizer production. Alberta farmers are price takers, not price setters; therefore, where ever possible we must reduce input costs. I am very pleased Alberta is able to take such a progressive and much needed step in this area.

One of the highlights last week was the announcement by the Minister of Energy, Hon. John Zaorzirny, that three fundamental principles long advocated by our Government have been achieved.

First, our crude oil production will receive market value for the first time since 1973. No more of having to receive other than the true value for our natural resources.

Second, our gas and oil industry is going to receive the same benefits for taxation purposes as other Canadian industries. It is going to be taxed on its profits not its revenues. The discriminatory tax of the N.E.P. is going to end.

Third, any federal incentives offered to the Canadian oil and gas industry will apply right across Canada - no more discrimination based upon geography and location. The Petroleum Incentive Program is going to go.

The immediate action will provide a major stimulus for additional oil and gas development in Alberta. It means jobs for Albertans.

Provincial Treasurer Lou Hyndman, brought down the 1985-86 Provincial budget on Monday, March 25, 1985. Government expenditures will total $10 billion, a 4.2 percent increase in spending over last year. There were no tax increases and no increases in health care premiums announced.

The Heritage Fund will cover $2.1 billion of our general revenue fund expenditures. It is estimated that without the heritage Fund, an eight percent tax increase would be necessary.

As announced last fall session, a five year program of tax reductions to manufacturing, processing and upgrading businesses will be implemented April 1st, 1985. This program will provide $65 million in tax reductions to small business, and should be an excellent job-creating initiative.

The budgetary estimates also show that St. Paul will receive $450,000 in funding in 1985-86 for construction of a Transportation Depot.

If you would like more information on the Provincial Budget or any provincial program, please feel free to call. I can be reached at 427-1833 in Edmonton, at 645-2668 in St. Paul or in Elk Point at 724-3926 (Wednesdays).
